

CAMPBELL GETS REVENGE

Gives Beidleman Majority of 2464 in Twenty-fifth Ward

Magistrate Campbell, Penrose leader of the Twenty-fifth Ward, who was ousted from the Republican City Committee by the Varies because he supported the Town Meeting party at the summer election, got revenge by defeating the ward for Beidleman.

Congressman Scott, Varies candidate for the nomination for Lieutenant Governor, polled 1186 votes, while Beidleman, Penrose choice, obtained 2559, or 53 per cent. The other Varies candidates suffered proportionately.

Coxell was almost lost, in addition.

He polled 343 votes to 1654 for Sprout.

Beidleman, however, said that all who voted for the Town Meeting party last fall would not receive Republican ballot but, in view of the general sentiment, Campbell there was little or no challenging.

Will Indorse Sprout if Judge Wins Democratic Nomination

"The majority of the members of the Anti-Saloon League of Pennsylvania are opposed to anything that sort of party does for the purpose of securing the Democratic nomination for Governor. Another move against the pro-drinkers of Germany was made by the Department of Justice today when Frank J. Garbarino, special agent in charge announced that he intended to seek the cooperation of newsboys and dealers in the city by inducing them to stop selling German newspapers.

Mr. Garbarino said he will call a meeting of the newsstand owners in a few days at which he will ask them to put signs to this effect: "No German newspapers or periodicals are on sale at this stand."

"There was a movement in Congress recently," said Garbarino, in explaining his new plan, "to enact a law prohibiting the publication and circulation of German newspapers. The measure was amended to require that all German language publications print English translations of all published matter."

"Inasmuch as no definite action has been taken in this matter, I intend asking the owners of newsstands throughout the city to help us. If they do, it will have almost the same effect as the passing of legislation on this point."
